GUITEAU'S ARRAIGNMENT.

His Counsel Expects to Prove his Insanity and Malpractice on the part of Dr. Bliss.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—After reading the indictment the clerk said, "What say you to this indictment, guilty or not guilty?" The prisoner in place of a response, fumbled in his waistcoat pocket and drew out a soiled and crumpled scrap of paper. The district attorney said impatiently,

"Will you enter your plea of guilty or not guilty?"

The prisoner replied, "I enter a plea of not guilty, if your honor please, of the said's death."

The defendant had endeavored to obtain the names and residences of witnesses for the defense, to prove the material facts of the question mainly, but had been unable to do so because the defendant did not seem to understand and refused to acknowledge the effect of the common and established rules of evidence in such cases. The defendant believes this difficulty arises from the very fact while such evidence would prove to wit: defendant's insanity, and yet he knows no means to overcome it. For that reason the affidavit of affiant became a measure in the case. He further says since he was employed in the case ten days ago he has done what he could to prepare for trial, and especially has made such inquiries as he was able to find witnesses for the defense. He further says the names and residences of such witnesses are John M. Guiteau of New York, G. A. Parker, Wm. J. Maynard, Francis Brownly, Orsen W. Goyt and Francis M. Scoville of Chicago, and Guiteau himself. The affidavit which was read states there are various witnesses whose evidence is material for the prisoner's defense, and without which he cannot go safely to trial; that the names and residences of such witnesses and facts that can be proved by them severally are all known to affiant's counsel, George Scoville, and are only known in part by affiant; that he has not money or property and is unable to pay fees and mileage, witnesses or cost of them. He therefore prays the court shall allow such witnesses in his behalf as may be shown by affiant's counsel to be necessary, the fees and costs to be paid in such manner as those of government witnesses are paid.

Scoville then read an affidavit made by himself. He states that besides the points of law that may be made the defense will consist of two points—first, the insanity of the defendant; and second, that the wound was not necessarily mortal and was not the cause of President Garfield's death. Affiant believes that as many witnesses will be necessary on the part of defense as appear in the list of witnesses for prosecution, to-wit, forty-four; and the court is respectfully asked to make an order allowing any number of witnesses not exceeding forty-four to be subpœnaed on the part of defendant as his counsel may from time to time deem necessary. Affiant further says that defendant has no means of payment of any expenses, and that affiant himself has received nothing and expects to receive nothing for his expenses and disbursements.

The affidavit having been read, Scoville said: I am not familiar with criminal law or practice, and would not feel competent to take upon myself the defense. I have acted alone thus far merely from force of circumstances. As soon as application was made to me to act for defendant, and in accordance with his request, I asked Emory Storrs, of Chicago, a gentleman conversant with criminal law, to undertake the defense. Storrs said that his engagements were such that it would be impossible for him to give the time and attention which the importance of the case demanded. I next applied to Richard T. Merrick, of this city, and received substantially the same answer. Merrick, however, kindly consented, in case the question of jurisdiction should be raised, to argue that branch of the case, but said beyond that he could not take an active part in the defense. Next, under instructions of defendant, I applied to Benjamin F. Butler, but my letter addressed to him must have miscarried. It was mailed last Monday and as yet have received no answer. I saw what purported to be a telegraphic dispatch from Butler to some one in this city dated Wednesday at Boston, saying he had not heard from me. I have not addressed him further, hoping he has or will receive my letter. I mention these things as part of the reasons which should operate with the court and influence it to grant further time in the case. I expect to prove that defendant was insane at time of shooting by testimony of the following named witnesses: Dr. McDonald and Fitch, of the insane asylum, Wards Island, New York; W. Bradner, late of Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Philadelphia, and Dr. Sprague in charge of Cook county, Ill., asylum. Affiant expects to prove by the following named competent medical experts: Wm. A. Hammond of New York, J. Marion Sims of New York and Moses and Edmund Andrews of Chicago, that the wound was not necessarily fatal, and was not of itself the cause of death, but that death ensued from the result of malpractice of the principal physician in charge of the wounded man. Affiant has reason to believe and does believe there are material witnesses for defense, whose names at present are unknown to him, on the question of insanity, and that thus far affiant has been unable to obtain information from the defendant himself or otherwise with any particularity as to where he has been, or as to the person with whom he has associated for some years past, so as to know whom to call as witnesses; but affiant believes that upon further inquiry, and within 30 days, he can ascertain the names and residence of many such witnesses. Affiant further expects to prove by Mr. Foss of Dover, N. H., that he was present at the time and place of shooting, saw defendant and heard what he said, and that defendant's acts and words on that occasion showed unmistakably that he was insane. Affiant further says it is important and necessary to defense to have the testimony of experts on the subject of insanity in addition to witnesses.

Corkhill opposed the delay asked for. Judge Cox said a prompt trial was essential and fixed it for November 7th. When the hearing was concluded, officers gathered about Guiteau and securely fastened his hands with handcuffs and the prisoner was taken from the court room. Judge Cox indicated that if Scoville could not obtain satisfactory counsel he would assign competent assistance from the local bar.

A Ruse to get Guiteau's Case put off.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Guiteau's counsel, Mr. Scoville, stated in his affidavit yesterday that he expected to prove by Dr. Hammond and Dr. Sims, of New York, and Dr. Gunn and Dr. Andrews, of Chicago, that the wound inflicted by Guiteau's bullet was not fatal and that death ensued from malpractice. Both of the Chicago physicians believe that the use of their names was simply a ruse to get a continuance. Dr. Andrews believes that the wound was fatal, while Dr. Gunn has expressed no opinion.

Attempt to Shoot Guiteau.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—While Guiteau was being arraigned a large sized man approached some of the officers of the court and asked for the loan of a pistol. This inquiry causing suspicion, he was taken to police headquarters, where he gave his name as Geo. H. Bethard, and showed a diploma as a lawyer, issued him June 23d in Columbus, Ohio. He said he fought in Garfield's regiment and showed two gunshot wounds in the legs and a bayonet wound in the head, which he said he received at Shiloh. He hears Guiteau was to be arraigned to-day and intended shooting him at the city hall. He had been drinking.

SPORTING ITEMS.

At the fair grounds this morning a trotting match took place between Foster's Lumax and Forbes' Mac for a purse of $300. Lumax made the first heat in 2:43, and second in 2:44, winning the purse.

In the afternoon the principal interest centered in the international running race for $500, for which the following horses entered: A. J. Stemler's Jack Douglas, W. Hall's Theo. Powers, Chambers' Jack Minor, and Foster's Kitty Clyde. After three false starts the horses got off in good style, Winters' horse keeping the lead till the homestretch, when Jack Douglas wore upon him, both passing the wire neck and neck, thus making a dead heat between the two Oregon horses, Minor second, Clyde being distanced. Time, 1:46. In the second heat Winters kept in the front, Douglas closing well up on the homestretch, but coming in second in 1:45, Winters making 1:44½, Jack Minor being distanced. In the third heat Winters kept the lead completely during the first quarter, but from that on was closely pushed by Douglas, but without success—Winters first, in 1:47; Douglas second, 1:47½.

About 1000 persons were present during the race, who seemed to take great interest in this the only trial of speed which took place during the week.

THE IRISH AGITATION.

Parnell's Arrest Followed by that of Dillon, on Similar Charges.

SEVERAL OTHER PROMINENT AGITATORS PLACED IN DURANCE VILE.

Dublin Stirred to its Center—Shops Closed on Account of Parnell's Arrest, and Immense Crowds Patrol the Streets.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A cable to the Irish World says, Quinn, secretary of the land league has been arrested and lodged in Kilmainham jail.

More Land League Arrests.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—James J. O'Kelly, member of parliament, and Wm. O'Brien, editor of the land league organ, United Ireland, were arrested this morning. Arthur O'Connor, member of parliament, has not yet been arrested, although Superintendent Mallon has a warrant against him. It is supposed he has escaped from the country.

Dillon Joins the Crowd.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—John Dillon, M. P., was arrested this afternoon charged with treasonable practices and lodged in Kilmainham jail.

Charges against Secretary Forster.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—Patrick Egan, of the land league, telegraphed the following message this morning from this city: To Hon. W. E. Forster, chief secretary for Ireland: "I charge that a conspiracy existed among the soldiers now stationed in Limerick to fire without order upon the people on the first opportunity that offers. I further charge that this has been known to your government for several days and that you still culpably allow these men to remain in the country, and I say if under the circumstances any such occurrence takes place the whole civilized world will hold you accountable for the slaughter of my countrymen.

Intense Feeling at Dublin.

DUBLIN, Oct. 16.—The re-arrest of Dillon caused a most intense feeling. An immense crowd assembled in Sackville street, opposite the Imperial Hotel, where members of the league are in the habit of staying in view of the possibility of Biggar's making a speech. After resisting the attempt of the police to disperse them they followed Biggar to the office of the league. This morning a further warrant was served on Parnell charging him with being reasonably suspected of having, since September 30th been guilty of treasonable practices as principal. Dillon was arrested at his own residence and accompanied to jail by a mounted escort. The whole affair was managed so quietly and promptly that the public were not aware of the arrest until the issuance of special editions of evening papers announcing it.

Closing Shops for Parnell.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A Dublin correspondent says there is no fear of a popular outbreak, as the hearts of the mass of people are not in favor of such a movement. In accordance with a resolution of the league, passed Thursday, tradesmen in Dublin closed their shops, owing to the arrest of Parnell. A man with a bugle paraded the streets warning people to close. A number refused, but eventually closed, owing to intimidation of a crowd of persons.

Items from Ireland.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Inspectors of county police throughout Ireland have received orders directing that after a certain hour men shall be confined to barracks except when on duty, when they shall be armed with loaded rifles and formed into large parties.

The land league has sent a messenger to Holyhead to prevent Healy quitting England.

There will be a mass meeting Sunday in Phœnix park, Dublin, to protest against Parnell's arrest.

At a meeting of 3000 persons in Belfast on Friday, at which twenty Catholic priests were present a general strike against rent was advocated as long as Parnell remains in prison. A similar meeting was held at Limerick.

A bomb, with a lighted fuse, was thrown into the house of O'Grady, a Mill street solicitor. No one injured, but damaged considerable property.

Forster's Fiat.

DUBLIN, Oct. 16.—The Gazette publishes a proclamation signed by Forster, chief secretary, warning persons guilty of intimidating others not to pay rents, or coercing them to abandon their lawful employment, or to join the land league, will be liable to arrest.

Eloquence and Patriotism.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Patrick Egan, treasurer of the Irish national land league, telegraphs from Paris: "We call upon every Irish nationalist and every friend of liberty, justice and humanity, to stand by us in the coming crisis. Although further arrests and even wholesale slaughter of the Irish people is determined by the Gladstone ministry, our banner will be borne onward. Landlordism is doomed, and British rule in Ireland has seen the beginning of its end."

Gladstone's Policy Approved.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Times says: Gladstone can afford to disregard the taunt which is certain to be flung at him, that Parnell's arrest was due to offensive personalities. In this ruling of law there is no fear the cabinet will not receive hearty and unwavering support from every party in the three kingdoms. The right of arrest is only denied here and there by a few associations, which habitually mistake license for liberty.

The United Ireland, organ of the league, publishes an article headed "Parnell Garroted," which states that Saxon cowardice has done its worst. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Hurley. There is great activity among Irish organizations in London, and circulars are distributed urging organization of meetings.

Gladstone Threatened.

Since the arrest of Parnell threatening letters of unusual character have been received by Gladstone and Harcourt, secretary of the state home department.

Preparing for Action.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.

A meeting of the presidents of the various Irish associations in this city was held to-night to make arrangements for the mass meeting which has been postponed until Monday next. A telegram of encouragement and sympathy was cabled to Dillon.

Ground for Speculation.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—A promoter of large schemes here is reported to have purchased 600,000 acres of land within the grant of the Oregon Military Road in Oregon.

Ravages of the Storm.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Upwards of fifty Berwickshire smacks were at sea during the recent storm. It is feared most of them have been lost. It is reported that twenty fishermen were drowned at Dunbar, and three pilots drowned in the Tyne.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The gale damaged property severely all over the country, killed several, injured many, and unroofed houses. Forty-five fishermen are reported lost at Barnmouth and Eyemouth, Scotland. During the gale the British steamer Cyprian, from Liverpool for Genoa, was wrecked on the Welsh coast and 22 lives lost.

Killed by a Fall.

By falling off a roof at Stockton-on-Tees, five persons were killed.

Gold for America.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—A half million pounds in gold has been bought for America. The Times believes the bank does not intend any more gold shall leave the bank for America.

Herat Captured by a Turkistan Army.

Bombay advices from Meshed state that the city of Herat has been captured by an army from Turkistan. This army is commanded by Kudas Khan. It was reported to have crossed Central Afghanistan from Turkistan some weeks ago and to be rapidly marching on Herat.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Conkling a Possible Cabinet Officer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The president's determination to delay sending in cabinet nominations until week after next has broken all slates, and it is asserted he is more embarrassed than has hitherto been supposed. The rumor that Conkling is to be a member is renewed; and Blaine's friends say the intention to appoint Conkling has never been abandoned. A western senator said this evening that he had felt such appointment would be so nearly fatal to the success of the administration and to the future of the party that he had gone to the president and protested against it. The president listened calmly and courteously, but did not indicate in any way his intention or reply to the question. The senator said Conkling would be confirmed unanimously. There would be no objection of him on the score of ability but the appointment would nevertheless wreck the administration.

Applying for a Cabinet Position.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—David Davis telegraphs Judge Gresham he has asked the president to give him a cabinet position.

Confirmed Consuls.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The senate confirmed the nominations of Walter Blaine as third assistant secretary of state, and a number of United States consuls and postmasters.

Northwest Nominations.

The president has sent the senate the following nominations: Fred. W. Sparling, of Washington territory, register of the land office at Vancouver, and Jerome Knox, of Oregon, receiver of public moneys at Lakeview, Or.

The Senate Secretaryship.

The democrats have determined to offer a resolution to make Chief Clerk Shoeber acting secretary. Senator Garland had a resolution to submit to-day but did not get an opportunity.

Probably a Fish Story.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Sherman furnished the only notable incident of the session by calling for a report made to Secretary Windom by a committee of treasury officials appointed to investigate charges against custodian Pitney, which report had been persistently kept from publication by Windom. A dispatch in the Commercial Advertiser of New York, yesterday, alleged that Windom refused to publish it because money had been abstracted from the contingent fund of the treasury to aid Sherman's candidacy at Chicago.

Sherman's Resolution.

The Times, on Sherman's resolution in the senate yesterday, says: While it is a very straight forward way of meeting insinuations against him, it will be very hard for him to remove the impression that special agents of the treasury were employed in the south doing political work for him, while they were drawing pay from the government. Ample proof of that has been furnished the Times' columns.

Nominations and Confirmations.

Among the confirmations to-day by the senate were: Henry Cox, to be pension agent at San Francisco, and W. G. Morris, to be collector of customs for the district of Alaska. The following were nominated by the president: Geo. M. Francis, postmaster at Napa, Cal.; S. Street, at South Pueblo, Col.; Geo. W. Copeland, at San Diego, Cal.; L. E. Slingley, at Casselton, Dakota; Jno. J. Monks, at Watertown, Dakota; E. Spence, at Globe City, Arizona, and Wm. Stine, at Walla Walla, W. T.

THE YORKTOWN CENTENNIAL.

Ovation at Washington to the French and German Visitors.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The French and German national guests, accompanied by their ministers and numbers of legation of their respective countries, visited the state department to-day, and were presented to Secretary Blaine and other members of the cabinet. Returning to the Arlington House, they were escorted to the capitol, where a formal reception took place by the district militia, Union veterans, fire department and several civic societies. The route of procession was thronged with people. There was a liberal display of flags and much waving of handkerchief.

When the procession reached the capitol it was surrounded by a dense mass of people, but admission was denied all except those especially invited. At two o'clock the senators entered the rotunda where were already the justices of the supreme court, members of the house and officers of the army and navy. As the visitors entered, escorted by the cabinet, they were greeted with applause which was repeated as President Arthur entered leaning on the arm of Secretary Blaine. The secretary presented to the president the French and German ministers, who introduced the French and German legation to the cabinet. Army officers headed by Gen. Sherman then welcomed the visitors, the presentation being made by Secretary Lincoln. Secretary Hunt performed the same services for officers of the navy, headed by Rear Admiral Nichols, while the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court were introduced by Attorney General MacVeagh. This terminated the ceremonies which were very brief and informal. The city to-night is illuminated, and grounds and open spaces around the state and treasury departments and executive mansion were thronged with people witnessing the display of fireworks at the base of the Washington monument. The French and German visitors viewed the spectacle from the balconies of the state department. Immediately after the reception in the rotunda the German minister, Von Schlosser had a special audience with the president. The minister stated he was charged by the emperor, by the crown prince, and just before his departure by Prince Bismarck to express the deep interest and sympathy they had felt in the illness of President Garfield, their sorrow on learning of his death, and their sympathy with his afflicted family and nation. The whole German people had partaken of the sorrow which had made this sad summer, and the imperial family had watched the bulletins each day with an anxious and kindly interest. They had charged him emphatically to convey to the president a full expression of this feeling. The president relished such messages of sympathy, more deeply appreciated by this government and by all our people, in this time of universal grief over the suffering and untimely death of president Garfield, and returned to the imperial family his thanks and assurances of high regard.

Arthur's Desires concerning Yorktown.

President Arthur and cabinet, according to prearranged programme, are to leave for Yorktown on Monday or Tuesday morning. The programme for the Yorktown celebration when first arranged, assigned to Secretary Blaine a conspicuous part, and all members of the cabinet were concerned in preparing for the government's participation in the event. The president, it is said, desires them to carry out the work they aided in arranging. For these reasons it is believed he has decided not to make any nominations for a new cabinet until after his return from Yorktown. The impression still prevails to-night that neither party will attempt the election of senate officers this session and that the contest will be laid over until next December, by making Chief Clerk Shober acting secretary until his successor is elected. M. D. Dcruck of California is mentioned as a possible candidate then.

The Senate to visit Yorktown.

The senate will probably take a recess next Monday for several days to allow members to visit Yorktown.

A Delicate Situation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—In sending invitations to foreign representatives attending the Yorktown celebration Secretary Blaine omitted the British legation from motives of delicacy. He thought as the event was a celebration of the defeat of British troops, probably the British embassy might feel aggrieved at being invited to witness it. To-day he was reliably informed that the members of the British legation would be pleased with the opportunity to visit Yorktown and witness the celebration, and the secretary immediately extended an informal but cordial invitation to the legation to accompany him to Yorktown as his guests on his boat.

Yorktown Items.

YORKTOWN, Oct. 16.—Capt. E. P. McCrea, chief of Admiral Porter's staff, died suddenly this morning.

Sinclair's battery of regulars, who marched 460 miles over the route taken by Washington's army, will enter the town Saturday night.

Hancock has arrived and will entertain all chief guests on board the steamer St. John.

Most all the troops will be camped by Sunday.

U. S. SENATE.

Reception of the French and German Yorktown Delegations.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—In anticipation of the visit of the French and German guests to the capitol this afternoon the senate galleries to-day were more crowded than usual. Senate proceedings were devoid of special interest. When the doors reopened the privilege of the floors was extended to the national guests, and the sergeant-at-arms directed to make suitable preparations for their reception. A recess was then taken until 3 P. M. At that hour the galleries were filled to their utmost capacity. At 3:15 the distinguished French and German visitors entered the chamber and stood in the rear of senators' desks. When quiet was restored, Bayard said: "I beg leave to apprize the senate of the presence on the floor of this chamber, of certain distinguished officers and persons of our sister republic of France and also certain other distinguished officers and citizens of the empire of Germany, who have come here for the purpose of joining with the people of the United States in the celebration and commemoration of a great victory to the arms of the allied colonies, one hundred years ago—a great victory of these colonies and their allies of that day. I know I speak the sentiment of every member of the American senate, when I say they are most welcome to this chamber, and I now move that for the purpose of this chamber paying their respect which each member feels for those who have honored us by their presence, a recess of a half an hour be taken to enable the presiding officer of the senate and each member, to pay that respect which represents not only our individual feeling but the feelings of every state and every man in every state in our union of states. [Applause.] The motion was agreed to and a recess taken, which was occupied by senators cordially greeting their distinguished guests. After the recess, the visitors having retired, the senate went into executive session.

THE VILLARD PARTY AT SPOKAN.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SPOKAN FALLS, Oct. 14.—The Villard party arrived at noon to-day, rode in carriages through the city and over the bridge, and viewed the falls. Much interest was manifested by the visitors who were delighted and astonished at its picturesque beauty and the wonderful power and ease with which it can be utilized. Nearly a hundred fine trout were visible in the stream at the corner of Front and Howard streets. The visitors generally alighted from carriages and visited various places of business. Mr. Villard was shown a map of the proposed railroad from Spokan Falls to Colville. He stated that an examination would be made of the route to which his attention had been called. If it had true merit it would be occupied by the Northern Pacific. He further stated that examinations would be made of all routes probably practicable to which his attention was called, which would bring business to the Northern Pacific. Mr. Villard stated that the interests of the O. R. & N. and N. P. R. R. companies were identical. Roads will be built so as to make the country southeast of this city, meaning Rock canyon and Hangman creek valleys, tributary to the Northern Pacific at Spokan Falls and that a great portion of the Palouse country would be tributary to the Northern Pacific at a point about forty miles this side of Ainsworth. In speaking of Spokan Falls Mr. Villard said: "This is my first visit to your town. I am now on a tour of observation and have little time to spend with you, but will come again soon. I want to see your town grow, and we will help it. It seems to have made rapid growth. I must say, in all our travels, this is certainly the finest townsite we have seen. The water power and geographical position of your town and the great and diversified resources of your country are very interesting and important." The special train left at 1:50 P. M. for the front, and will probably return to-morrow night.

Swallowing POISON

Sparrs of disgusting mucous from the nostrils or upon the tonsils, Watery Eyes, Snuffles, Buzzing in the Ears, Deafness, Crackling sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fetid Breath, Nasal Twang, Scabs in the Nostrils, and Tickling in the Throat are

SIGNS of CATARRH.

No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One-fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its infectious Poison, and one-fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. When asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, poisoning every part of the system.

Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the furthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. It is the only remedy which in our judgment, has ever yet really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.

REVOLT AGAINST "BOSSISM."

In Pennsylvania there is a political situation which not only excites a good deal of interest within the state but attracts the notice of the country. The republican party of Pennsylvania is under "boss rule." For many years it has continued to an extent unknown in any other state. A gang of professional politicians and spoilsmen govern with an absolute and despotic power. Under their rule Pennsylvania has long been the citadel of the boss and spoils system. This gang of politicians, aided by the Conkling machine in New York, led the conspiracy to nominate Grant for a third term, and by calling a convention months in advance of the proper time and having the delegates appointed by the county committees, juggled the republicans of the state out of their choice and sent a delegation to the national convention instructed for Grant, two-thirds of whom misrepresented the state by sticking for Grant to the last. One of these third-term delegates was Silas M. Baily, now the candidate for the state treasurership, the principal office to be filled through the election of this year. The Cameron dynasty controlling the recent state convention, by its usual tactics, forced the nomination of Baily in spite of protests against it,—an act which is interpreted as part of the plan known to be entertained by the old leaders of bossism to push the third term scheme once more in 1884. To meet this manifest purpose Charles S. Wolfe, who is recognized as leader of the republicans in Pennsylvania who oppose machine politics, the third term scheme, bossism and ring rule, has announced himself as an independent candidate for the office of state treasurer, and is making an energetic canvass of the state. On the 4th October he made a speech of great power at Philadelphia, which the newspapers of that city published in full. The speech was a tremendous onslaught upon the boss and spoils system as exemplified by the rule of the Cameron gang in Pennsylvania. It was received with approval by an immense crowd of independent republicans, among whom were large numbers of the most prominent and influential men of the city and state. Following this the national republican league, a powerful organization which has its headquarters in Philadelphia, has published an address to the republicans of the state appealing to them to defeat the "bosses" and smash the "machine." The members of the league declare that as republicans they desire the continued ascendancy of the republican party, believing that it represents the better elements of the republic; but they declare also that in their judgment no honest citizen can belong to a party which is merely an instrument through which a few active and unscrupulous men secure an unlimited lease of power. The present protest appears to be the most formidable ever made against boss rule in boss-ridden Pennsylvania.

THE TECHNICAL FARCE.

Guiteau was arraigned on Friday, and the usual circumlocution to defeat justice began, which was continued through Saturday. Counsel for the assassin pleaded for time, insisting on having thirty days to prepare the defense and obtain witnesses; but the court finally set down the trial for the 7th November. Scoville indicated the line of defense which he purposes to employ. He intends to try to make it appear first that Guiteau is insane, and second, that the president's death was the result, not of the wound inflicted, but of bad treatment received at the hands of physicians. That such defense could be gravely proposed in a court of justice is a fact which shows most significantly the farcical nature of the proceedings habitually taken in criminal cases under the practice of our courts. The plea of insanity in this case is unreasonable enough. Yet it may be borne (though with some impatience), since it is apparent that the assassin is a person whose intellect, originally weak, has been disordered and perverted by low and vile ways of life, till at least his moral sensibility is wholly gone. While this does not constitute insanity to a degree that will justly acquit of crime, it nevertheless furnishes a ground on which it is natural to expect modern practice to attempt a defense. But the assertion that the president's death was not the result of the shooting, but of the malpractice of the physicians, is so absurd that it is calculated to bring the plea of insanity also, which could be hardly tolerated in this case if presented alone, into utmost and infinite contempt. It is an attempt to depend on a course of technical and sophistical pleading which, in one way or another, is so often employed to defeat the course of justice. The assassin himself, as a shyster in the law, knows all about these various modes of proceeding. He has studied them intently, no doubt thinks them in accord with justice, and has from the first depended on them to secure him immunity from punishment. With his knowledge of this system of defense, through which the administration of criminal justice is regularly turned into a farce, he had no fear of the law. His only precaution was to satisfy himself that the jail would be strong enough to protect him against popular violence. Satisfied on this point he committed the act of murder. He has been safely kept as he expected; and now the technical farce on which he depended for final security is begun as he had foreseen.

The Oregonian, as its custom is, reported the Linn county fair. The duty was assigned to Alfred Holman, who has been in the service of the paper for the past five years, and who has acquired both experience and reputation in the discharge of his duties. His instructions were, as usual, to make a fair and just report of what he found. There are those who think it the duty and function of a newspaper to employ puffery in reporting, regardless of truth and facts. Such, however, is not the way of The Oregonian. All the writers for this journal are instructed to report things truly, avoiding the language of laudation on the one hand and of unjust depreciation on the other. In some particulars Mr. Holman's report of the Linn county fair was not complimentary to the management. Some of the exhibits were spoken of as meagre, while others were reported as creditable to the industry of Linn county. At this report certain persons at Albany took offense, and attempted to retaliate by publishing in one of the local papers an attack on Mr. Holman's private character and conduct. He immediately returned to Albany, met his accusers, and caused them to make retraction of their calumnious accusations. This retraction The Oregonian republishes from the Albany Democrat. The attack was wanton, inexcusable, and made for the purpose of "getting even" with a journalist for having made a report that had the fault of being written with discrimination, instead of being couched in the common platitudes of extravagant praise. Many citizens of Albany, as well as others who saw the fair and read Mr. Holman's report, have since stated that the report was on the whole a just one. We have only this to say further, namely, that The Oregonian believes its readers want the truth on all subjects, and it intends to publish it. A newspaper, unless strong enough to be fearless in discharge of this duty, can be of no real service to the public and ought not to exist.

The Philadelphia Press has a dispatch from Washington which explains fully enough why Mr. Blaine will not remain in the cabinet. It is asserted as a well known fact that the president has requested him to remain, but he will not consent. The statement that he is desirous of resigning, or has intrigued to keep his [illegible] pronounced utterly false. Mr. Blaine [illegible] are the only members of the cabinet toward whom Gen. Arthur was on terms of [illegible] while he was vice president and he has the kindest feelings for both. In the course he has marked out for his administration it would gratify him to have Mr. Blaine continue as secretary of state; but the latter feels he would be doing an injustice to himself and ultimately to the president by remaining. He knows that by staying in the cabinet he would be in perpetual conflict with Conkling, Grant and Jones, who dislike him quite as heartily as he despises them. He will therefore retire from the cabinet. Under the circumstances the resolution is a wise one.

President Arthur, with great good sense, is taking measures to protect himself against office-seekers. It is said that he will be more inaccessible to the public than any of the later presidents. He has made an imperative rule that he will not even consider applications for any of the minor offices, but will leave such appointments entirely to heads of departments. For protection of his time he will have regular reception hours for general visitors, and for an hour each afternoon will see chiefs of department bureaus who may desire to consult with him. He intends to have only three days in the week when he will see senators, representatives and distinguished visitors. Under these regulations, if they be kept and enforced, the general public will find access to the president as difficult as it was in the times of Washington and Adams.

The national days at Yorktown will be from the 19th to the 21st. Crowds have been arriving every day for a week past. It is believed there will be 100,000 visitors, besides those who are the guests of the government. Accommodations are very scanty. The most exorbitant prices are charged for everything. Any kind of room is $10 a day. The French visitors and the descendants of Baron Steuben from Germany attract most attention. They will be quartered at the Moore house, which was the scene of the capitulation of Lord Cornwallis. The telegraphic reports are full of details as to preparations and ceremonies. If accommodations could be had, hundreds of thousands would be present at this centennial celebration of the great final achievement of our war of independence.

Riddleberger, of Virginia, the gentleman whose candidacy for sergeant-at-arms of the senate brought him unpleasantly before the country a short time since, has made another attempt to secure public attention by fighting a bloodless duel with one of the numerous Wise family, likewise of the old Dominion. No one was hurt and mutual explanations followed, soothing the wounded feelings of each combatant. This and the late Lewis-Wise encounter will lead to the general belief that these fiery sons of Virginia are either bad marksmen or are content with the shadow of what their fathers would have considered serious reality and conveniently load with blank cartridges.

When Guiteau was arraigned on Saturday, a man in the court room tried to kill him, but he didn't try very hard, as he only wanted to borrow a pistol for the purpose, having none of his own. Such want of preparation is very reprehensible and ought not to be forgiven. Nobody, of course, is in favor of lawless violence, but it would be hard to convince the American people that a shot at Guiteau would ever be out of order.

In almost every city there are so-called newspapers, unfit to be named, which defend by natural instinct all the crimes committed by the vile classes, making no exception even of murder. Of such publications unfortunately Portland is not free. No city is, after it has grown to such size that its various sinks of iniquity are numerous enough to support them.

The financial report of the Western Union telegraph company for the year ended June 30, 1881, shows the receipts for the year to have been $14,060,800. President Green says the gross earnings of the company for the current year cannot be less than $15,000,000, of which the net profits will be $6,500,000.

It is said Tyner, first assistant postmaster general, will soon be retired. He has never been in accord with James' administration of the department.

THE AVERILL MIXED PAINT.
Beauty, Durability and Economy Combined.

The attention of consumers is called to the superior quality of the AVERILL MIXED PAINTS, which have been used nearly twenty years with great satisfaction, and for the following reasons: Its DURABILITY is acknowledged to exceed any other paint. Its BEAUTY and BRILLIANCY of finish are incomparable, even leading many to believe that varnish is employed in its manufacture. It can be washed or scrubbed without damage, retaining its original lustre—fire-proof to a high degree. Its convenience commends it to all—ready for use; any man, woman or child can use it.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

Large Attendance Saturday Night—Thousands of Visitors from the Interior Expected this Week.

The afternoon concert at the pavilion Saturday afternoon was poorly attended, but in the evening the great hall was crowded. It is estimated that three thousand people were present. People from the interior will commence to arrive to-day, and on several lines it will be necessary to run special boats and cars. The hotels here are prepared to entertain all comers, and none need stay away for lack of room.

The most important and the most complete exhibit in the pavilion is of

GRAINS AND GRASSES.

Large shelves between the main hall and machinery hall on the lower floor, running through the entire length of the building are occupied by a display of grains and grasses in sheaf and grains in jars that has never been equaled before—not even at the centennial. Mr. David D. Prettyman of Polk county has on exhibition one hundred and sixty samples of wheat oats, barley, rye and flax in sheaf—all produced in this state. Every county in the Willamette valley and nearly every district from Cottage Grove in Lane county on the south and the Columbia bottom on the north is represented in the collection, which was made by Mr. Prettyman in person. It was his purpose to make a fair exhibit of the best work of the country. An extraordinary growth of any sort is ticketed as such. In this collection there are thirty-two samples of Oregon grain in jars and beside them samples of the same kinds of grain grown in almost all the eastern states—from Pennsylvania to Texas. The finest specimen is a jar of centennial or 90-day wheat, grown upon the farm of Mr. Prettyman, three miles east of Salem. The grains are yellow, plump and almost as large as currants. Pasted on the jar containing this grain is a certificate from Buckingham & Smith proprietors of the Excelsior flouring mills of Salem, stating that a lot ground for Mr. Prettyman made forty-six pounds of flour from each bushel of wheat. Forty pounds to the bushel is the average yield from the average Willamette shipping wheat. The flour was of the best quality. A sample of Nebraska wheat is shown beside a jar of wheat raised in Oregon soil from Nebraska seed. The grains are fully one-third larger. On two large cards fifty-four samples of wheat and barley heads are neatly arranged, showing the product of the various varieties of grain grown in the same soil. One head of wheat which we examined, contained one hundred and sixty grains and another one hundred and eighty-four—all plump and sound. A sheaf of wild oats seven feet tall from the garden of Col. Geo. K. Sheil of Salem; a stalk of corn thirteen and a half feet high from the garden of Dr. Koehler of this city; a stock of pop corn containing eleven full developed ears raised by Geo. Hustin of Salem, and some other minor exhibits complete Mr. Prettyman's display of grains. He has devoted almost four months to making this collection and traveled through all the valley counties, taking samples wherever he could get them. The more prominent contributors to his stock were C. P. Burkhart and J. J. Finlayson of Linn, J. C. Wallace, John Stewart and Ben F. Underwood of Lane, T. L. Davidson, J. L. Parrish W. H. Parrish, W. J. Herron, Reuben Lewis and W. D. Claggett of Marion, Wm. Rubel, Clyde Beckett and W. H. Walker of Polk, Wylie Chapman, Wm. Phillips and Wallace Gates of Clackamas, and Dr. Blalock of Eastern Oregon and Washington.

Mr. Prettyman also exhibits some samples of tobacco, raised by George Hustin, of Salem; another sample raised by George Custer, of Albany, and fifty-two varieties of native and cultivated grasses. To enumerate would be useless. He shows alfalfa raised by D. L. Riggs, of Salem, eleven and a half feet high, clover six and a half feet high, timothy seven feet high, and so on through the whole range.

Paul Schulze, land agent of the O. & C. R. R. Co., also makes a fine exhibit of wheat and all other grains, including spelts, a German brewing grain. He has one hundred samples in sheaf and forty samples in jars. The exhibit is almost a duplicate of Mr. Prettyman's.

C. P. Burkhart, of Linn county, shows thirty-six sheaf samples and twenty-four jars—all very fine and splendidly illustrating the productions of Linn county.

Wm. Baker, of the Rural Spirit, shows twelve samples of grain and two of corn, all good.

THE EXHIBITION OF FRESH AND PRESERVED FRUITS

is very fine and attracts much attention. W. P. Watson shows twenty-four plates and eighteen varieties of apples and pears, all of remarkable size and flavor, and grown on his place at Hood river. One Gloria Mundi, in his exhibit, weighs one and three-fourth pounds. D. Creighton, of Three-mile creek, near the Dalles, shows some fine specimens of apples and pears. C. J. Hummel has some fine Oregon grapes on exhibition. One of the best exhibits in this department is made by Nathan Piercy, of Piercy's island, below this city, who shows sixty-seven varieties of peaches, apples and pears. This exhibit shows that the alluvial land on the Columbia bottom will produce fruit of the very best quality. Dr Blalock, of Walla Walla, Seth Luelling, of the Milwaukie nursery, and Thos. A. Stott, of Washington county, show some fine apples. Dr. Henley, of Portland, has some very fine quinces.

On another table D. D. Prettyman shows ninety-six plates and ninety-three varieties of tree fruits gathered in Marion and Polk counties. S. F. Chadwick shows some large and beautiful quinces. H. W. Prettyman, of East Portland, among a fine collection of fruits, shows a pound pear which weighs two pounds and a half. An exhibit is made by the Multnomah poor farm which shows that it is in fact really a very good farm. E. P. Wright, of Wills station, Clackamas county, displays a fine plate of strawberries. Another plate of strawberries is unmarked. J. H. Lambert, of Clackamas; Wm. Galloway, of Yamhill; J. L. Parrish, of Marion, and Wm. Baker, of Portland, each have good exhibits, and there are two or three others not properly ticketed. The work of ticketing has generally been done with great care almost every sample of grain or fruit bearing the name of the exhibitor and information as to weight, variety, where grown, etc.

The display of dried fruits is small but its quality in many respects excels any exhibit of Oregon dried fruit heretofore made. P. T. Bradford of this county shows nine boxes of evaporated prunes, plums, pears, etc., which in quality and appearance cannot be excelled. His exhibit of prunes is particularly fine. M. Goulding of Burtsville shows some samples of dried apples which would be called first quality in any market in the world. Reading an article in THE OREGONIAN a fortnight ago suggesting that dried fruit be sulphur bleached, he made the experiment and as a result produces paper-white fruit. The expense is but little more and the difference in the bleached and unbleached fruit puts several cents per pound more in the hands of the packer. Now, when our fruits are going to the eastern market, is the time to make their reputation, and packers should bear in mind that appearance is quite as important a market consideration as quality. I. L. Riggs of Salem and Doherty & Quinn show samples of dried fruit.

Mrs. Eugene D. White of this city makes an exhibit of forty-one samples of home-made jellies, some of the moulds being two years old. All are as firm and transparent as if made yesterday.

THE VEGETABLE EXHIBIT

Is very good. T. H. Cox, of Buena Vista, shows fine potatoes of the peerless variety weighing sixteen pounds. The "patch" in which they grew yielded three hundred bushels to the acre. C. G. Hummell shows a cabbage-turnip, two varieties of carrots and some fine beets. Wm. Adams, of Oakland Douglas county, exhibits a strip-leaf turnip weighing twenty pounds. Ernest Giese and Mrs. McKinney shows some fine beets. J. L. Parrish displays some fine squashes. Wm. Blanchard shows a fine collection of potatoes raised near Portland. W. W. Prettyman has a fine potato exhibit, the product of one hill of the garnet Chili variety weighing twelve pounds. He also shows a Hubbard squash weighing thirty pounds. John Butson of Salem, shows some fine potatoes and Wm. Baker of Portland, makes a creditable display of vegetables. The finest exhibit of potatoes is made by Judge A. E. Wait, formerly of this city, but now of Canby, Clackamas county. His display contains twenty-four varieties of the "spud" family and one Chinese yam. To-morrow THE OREGONIAN will review the wool and other products on exhibition.

RIGGS' FRUIT DRYER.

When we observe that testimonials from such men as Hon. John Minto, D. D. Prettyman and Samuel Brown are in possession of Mr. Riggs for his new widely known fruit dryer we feel satisfied that the machine is first-class. Samples of its work are placed side by side with the machine. Mr. Riggs is present to explain its workings, and as it is an Oregon institution it certainly is entitled to first place among fruit producers.

LITT'S

Display in the gallery, west end, is attracting unbounded attention not only from the ladies, who are most interested, but the gentlemen. None can feel more pride in the display than Mr. Litt who has worked hard to attain the position he now holds. Many have taken occasion to say that the frequent mentions made through the columns of THE OREGONIAN of this house were all boah, but the display made at the pavilion positively does away with assertions of this kind. Never have the public looked upon such an array of elegance as that displayed by Litt in the pavilion. We shall collect all knowledge possible to aid us hereafter in describing the really magnificent dresses on exhibition.

JOHN B. GARRISON

Of Third street, who has gained a wide-spread reputation as a dealer in first-class sewing machines, quartered in the gallery on the south side, has placed on exhibition an assortment of machines, including the Royal St. John, Davis, Wilson and Howe. These machines have been before the public for years and require no laudation. A corps of capable assistants are present to explain the workings of the various machines.

ALBERT BARTSCH'S

Name has been connected with the piano and organ business for many years, and he still keeps a leading position with the world-famed Steinway. These instruments, which have received indorsements from all the leading pianists and musicians in the old and new worlds, are arranged side by side with the Kranich & Bach piano in the space at the head of the staircase, east end and south side of the pavilion. The instruments exhibited are of the most beautiful finish and latest designs, and will meet with the attention their prominence deserves.

FRANK G. ABELL,

The photographer, has again taken a prominent position in the art gallery, and we may safely say shares the greatest attention from visitors to the art gallery. Passing by his place of business one can form but a light estimate of the value of his photographic work, but as soon as the display at the pavilion it assumes a wondrously different aspect. At the state fairs and the previous exhibits in the Mechanics' pavilion Mr. Abell has won golden opinions. His exhibit is up to the standard and will receive, as it justly deserves, a full amount of attention.

THE CLACKAMAS PAPER CO.

Few realize what is being done by local manufacturers, and great surprise is expressed at the sight of the display made by this company. On the south side (gallery) they present samples of paper manufactured at their mill. Twines and other goods in which they deal largely are arranged in good taste.

OTHER EXHIBITS.

Minville & Co. have, at the west end in the gallery, three elegant dresses enclosed in a case, which attract much attention.

The English dog cart and the Webfoot cart form but a small part of Espey's carriage display.

J. I. Case & Co. make a partial display of farming implements in the machinery department, but this week will add materially to the same.

Wm. Pfunder of blood purifier fame, has completed his exhibit at the entrance to the floral department.

The Portland Carriage Manufactory have several buggies and carriages on exhibition in the addition to the gallery.

THE OPERA SEASON.

Owing to the failure to receive a telegram from San Francisco which gave instructions to fix the charge for reserved seats for the opera season this and next week at $1 50, the management here decided to retain the usual schedule at New Market and made such announcement. The expense of conducting an opera company is well known to be far greater than that of a theatrical organization, to say nothing of the cost of bringing a large number of people here; and the increased price per ticket would not be excessive. Still after due consultation yesterday, it was decided to charge only $1 for reserved seats as first advertised, trusting to Portland's customary liberal patronage of meritorious amusements to make up in increased attendance the difference in price of admission.

The following notices of Mr. Talbo, the tenor, are from eastern exchanges:

"Signor Talbo as Fernando (in La Favorita) displayed a very sweet though light tenor voice and sang with consummate judgment. His 'Spirto Gentil' was a gem of tender, impassioned singing."

"Signor Talbo is one of the greatest tenori di grazia on the lyric stage, and this, with his fine acting, lend largely to complete a splendid rendition of the opera."

"His vigorous high notes, the B natural in the second act and again in the duet trio in the third act, seemed to flow from him without the slightest effort. In the love duets with Marguerite his mezzo voice singing was very enjoyable and his phrasing was in the best taste."

A RETRACTION.

[From the Albany Democrat, 14th inst.]

ALBANY, Oct. 9, 1881.

To the Editor of the Democrat: Your paper of the 7th inst. contained a letter signed by J. H. Burkhart, charging that I was guilty of the most gross indecencies during a visit to your city about ten days ago. Referring to his letter allow me to say that I was not in Albany or at the fair grounds on "Wednesday morning" as he states. I am prepared to prove by a score of people that I conducted myself with propriety and perfect decency during the time of my stay, and to disprove every statement made in Burkhart's letter. I called on Burkhart this morning when he assured me that he had no part in the letter bearing his name, had neither written nor inspired it, and knew nothing of it till he saw it in print. I have reason to believe, in fact I know, that in making this statement with reference to responsibility for the letter, Burkhart spoke falsely. Will you do me the favor to publish the following retraction which I got from him this morning, and also to say through your paper what you have said to me with reference to the original letter. Very respectfully,

ALFRED HOLMAN.

ALBANY, Oct. 9, 1881.

Last week's issue of the Democrat contained a letter over my signature stating that Mr Alfred Holman, travelling correspondent of THE OREGONIAN, had been guilty of grossly indecent and dishonorable conduct at our late fair. Each and every statement so charging. Mr. Holman, was and is wholly unfounded and untrue. The communication in the Democrat was not written or signed by me.

J. H. BURKHART.

STATEMENT FROM THE EDITOR OF THE DEMOCRAT.

In relation to the above I have only a few words to say. One day last week Mr. Burkhart and two directors of the fair, came into my office and asked me to answer Mr. Holman's correspondence in THE OREGONIAN and give the writer a good "showing up." I replied that I did not wish to do so, as I knew nothing against him, but told Mr. Burkhart to write what he pleased in relation to him and I would publish it. He replied that he could not do so, but that they would give me the points in the matter and I could write it up and sign his name to it. After they left my office I wrote it up as requested and from the data furnished by them, and then submitted it to Mr. Burkhart, at his office. He read it and I made some corrections in it under his directions and then inserted it in the Democrat. Mr. Burkhart has since ascertained that his informants did not give him facts, and of course was in honor bound to make the retraction which appears in this column.

C. H. STEWART.

LETTER FROM EX-GOVERNOR CHADWICK.

SALEM, Oct. 10 1881.

Editor Democrat: I noticed a communication attacking the character of Mr. Alfred Holman from J. H. Burkhart, secretary of the Linn County Fair, in your paper last week, that was so unjust that I feel it a duty to say a word in regard to it. On Wednesday of the Linn County Fair, having business at Albany I took the morning train for that city. I met Mr. Holman on the train, he was on his way to attend the Linn County Fair. We arrived at Albany at noon, and in the afternoon Mr. Holman went to the fair. He returned towards evening when I again met and conversed with him. On Thursday forenoon he visited the fair again, returning at noon to Albany where he and I took the Portland train for our respective homes. Had Mr. Burkhart made the least inquiry about Mr. Holman he would have found that Mr. Holman passed Wednesday evening with one of the most respected and honorable families in Albany. I feel warranted in saying that I do not believe that there is a young man in Oregon who stands higher for integrity, candor, or honesty of purpose than Alfred Holman. Possessing a good moral character he has where known a most excellent reputation. I did not visit the fair, but I conversed with several gentlemen in Albany about it, and if they spoke truly the fair was not what it would have been under more favorable auspices. Reading Mr. Holman's letter in THE OREGONIAN in this connection I find nothing in it which justifies the allusions made to it by Mr. Burkhart. The attack on the character of Mr. Holman, and that is really all there is of the letter of Mr. Burkhart, is certainly without excuse and can be accounted for on no other hypothesis than that Mr. Burkhart did not personally know Mr. Holman or was not acquainted with his character. I offer this letter voluntarily because I know Mr. Holman values his character above all other considerations. Very respectfully yours,

S. F. CHADWICK.

BRIEF NOTES.

The City of Chester cleared Saturday for San Francisco.

Bethel Home Lodge No. 1, I. O. G. T. of the World, meets at 8 o'clock this evening corner Third and D streets.

Mrs. Rowe housekeeper at the Holton House, had her pocket picked of a small amount at the Mechanics' fair Saturday night.

Mr John Williams, the efficient and polite usher of New Market, and Mr. Charles Farley as the stage carpenter, are doorkeepers at Mechanics' pavilion—both good selections.

H. Sinsheimer, 129 First street, has received "President Garfield's Funeral March," by E. La Grange, and a song and chorus, "A Nation's Tears in Sorrow Fall," by Thos. P. Westendorf.

A young lady teacher in the Chinese mission school, wishing to test the knowledge of one of her pupils, asked him if he knew the meaning of the sombre drapings on all the buildings, to which he replied with alacrity: "Oh, yes; Melican king, San Flan iscoe, too muchee die."

A CARD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TELEGRAM:

In this morning's Standard appears an item headed "A Mysterious Disappearance," the substance of which seeks to cast a reflection on Mr. C. C. McDougall, with whom I have been associated in the practice of the law for some months past. In regard to the character of Mr. McDougall during his residence of several years, and the unsavory affairs, et Mr. McDougall's life and habits answer the base calumniators. In regard to the transaction with Mr. R. Neal I will say that the business was transacted by the firm, and I am ready and willing at any and all times to answer any and all details of Mr. McDougall or myself in the matter, and ask that if there is any thing unprofessional or unbusiness-like in the transaction that the public may damn me when it is established that there is crookedness. In regard to the gentleman from Roseburg, I will say that I do not know who he is, but that all the business from that city has usually come to me my friend and studied law in that city with Hon. L. F. Lane, and am extensively acquainted throughout southern Oregon, and the story is a base, false and malicious lie. Of the confiding lady spoken of I know nothing, but no doubt she would have called at our office if there was anything to arouse her suspicions and asked for an explanation, and that too is false and malicious. In regard to Mr. McDougall's return I will say that I received a letter from him in which he states that the business on which he has gone has detained him longer than he anticipated and that he expected to return in twelve or fifteen days from the date of the letter which was on the 8th inst. If any one has a claim of any kind against Mr. McDougall of a private nature they will be paid upon presentation to Mr. T. G. Brooks in whose hands Mr. McDougall's private business now is, and any claim against the firm of McDougall & Bower will be paid upon presentation to me. Our office is 155 First street at which place all matters can be settled by those who are interested, and at which place the curious may inquire for further information in regard to Mr. McDougall's welfare, and responsibility for his actions, but not the place where they can satisfy their gossiping natures by startling developments. The business is and will continue as heretofore.

J. M. BOWER,
Of the firm of McDougall & Bower.

TO THE PUBLIC:—The undersigned is the confiding lady referred to in the item in the Standard, and in regard to the matter I will say that in all my business transactions with McDougall & Bower, they have done my business in a professional and business-like way, and there is not an atom of truth in the item so far as it refers to me.

An Open Secret.

The fact is well understood that the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT is by far the best external known for man or beast. The reason why becomes an "open secret" when we explain that "Mustang" penetrates skin, flesh and muscle to the very bone, removing all disease and soreness. No other liniment does this, hence none other is so largely used or does such wonders of good.

An unsuccessful attempt was made this evening to set fire to the large hay barn of Rider & Somers, on Stuart street, near Folsom. The flames were discovered and extinguished before any damage was done. No clue to the perpetrator.

The Devil's Elbow Surveyed.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 15.—C. E. Rhodes, attached to the U. S. engineer corps in this state, has completed the survey of what is known as Devil's Elbow, San Joaquin river, and reported to Col. Mendell. The object of the survey was to furnish the latter officer with data to enable him to obtain the necessary appropriation to cut a navigable channel through the bend next year. On Monday he commences the examination of Mokelumne river from Woodbridge westward, to ascertain what improvements are needed to ensure the uninterrupted navigation of that stream.

LATER.—5:30 P. M.—Police Officer Sires is dead.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Deloire Diggings.

VICTORIA, Oct 14.—Additional information from the Alaskan mines, state that in order to work these diggings successfully, companies should be strong and with sufficient means to take in a two years' supply of all that may be necessary for mining operations. A great deal cannot be done the first season, particularly if locations have to be prospected before commencing. Vegetables can be raised along the banks of the Deloire river successfully, as is demonstrated by the cabbage and potatoes grown by the Chinamen there. Much of the country is well wooded and game exceedingly plentiful. Four fine moose were obtained while the party were on the Deloire, while ducks, grouse and other game, are numerous and good.

While the party were working their way back, they fell in with two Frenchmen, named Charles Cameron and Joseph Florent, who had been hunting and trapping for nearly two years on Black river, a tributary of the Deloire. Two others of the party operated on the latter river, where they were lost last spring, and supposed to have been drowned in their canoe just below the mouth of Dease river. The trappers represented that during the winter they spent on Black river quicksilver froze sufficiently solid to be made into bullets. Notwithstanding this intense cold, no ill effects were experienced, as the weather was calm and bright. They camped out with only an awning above them the entire winter, with the exception of three nights. The summers are tolerably dry and but little time is lost in consequence of rain. The party camped for a few days at the old Hudson Bay Company's establishment on the Deloire, called Fort Hackett. They found the buildings, which were once of considerable extent, almost crushed down from the effects of time. The residence of the master, the warehouses, cellars, fur presses, etc., were easily distinguishable. The garden enclosure is all overgrown with young forest trees and weeds, but the raspberry, gooseberry and currant bushes are still struggling for existence. Kretzinger, one of the miners, is going home to Chicago for the winter, and the others to Deadwood, D. T., but they will all return in the spring as early as practicable and go to the Deloire with about 40 men and sufficient supplies of every description for two years, that is one winter and two summers. In this time the diggings will be well tested, and they are confident that they will last for several years. The cold has been severe for several days.

Cold Weather at Victoria.

The weather is unusual at this season. Ice forms every night.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—There is a steady demand and firm feeling with fair average business, sales of the week amounting to 2,800,000 pounds of all kinds; Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces have been sold at 43@45c for XXX and XX and above; Michigan, 41@43c, mostly 43c, which is a good average, and held firm, and No. 1 Michigan and Ohio, 46@47½c per pound. Unwashed fleeces continue in demand, and have been sold to some extent at 17@19c for carpet, 18@24c for low, 25@32½c for fine, 30@35c for mediums, the latter price for choice selections. Combing and delaine selections scarce and in demand, with sales of Michigan and Ohio fine delaine at 47@50c, and this an advance on previous prices. Unwashed combing has been in good request at 25@32 for coarse and medium, principally Missouri, at 31@32c per pound. California wool is quiet, and fall stock is neglected. The demand is for the best grades of wool, and low and imperfect wool finds very little favor with consumers. The pulled wool business has been fair at 35@45c for common and choice supers, and 48c for very choice eastern and Maine. Choice Cal. pulled, 43@45c. Foreign wool is quiet and stock light. Sales of Australian at 49c, and Montevideo at 39c per pound, were made.

Pimples and other skin disorders quickly yield to that thorough blood purifier and tonic, King of the Blood. See advertisement.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the proper remedy to take in the spring of the year to purify the blood, invigorate the system, excite the liver to action and restore the healthy tone and vigor of the whole physical mechanism, which often becomes impaired during the winter by lack of open air exercise and the want of sufficient care in the matter of diet.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Clipper freights, although not so active as it was anticipated they would be by this time, are looking much better and all vessels doing fairly, especially with agricultural goods, which are being moved more freely and promise to be large in the aggregate. There is also a fair movement in other classes of freight, and upon the whole the market is in better shape than for a long time. Rates remain firm and steady, and there is no change to note in the last quotations. The tonnage supply is still small and not likely to be increased. No new charters for either lines are announced.

Railroad freights are still quite active, and the movement includes many goods suitable for the holiday season. Shipments the past week include 425 kegs herring, 870 cases case goods, 30 cases wines, 2063 packages tobacco, 4 firkins butter, 55 bags nuts, 30 cases of citron, 50 boxes raisins, 50 cases sardines, 220 barrels of currants, 60 cases figs, 50 cases cranberries, and 150 packages of cheese.

Markets are fairly active.

Wheat—Higher by 1¼c and strong, but spot demand is light.

Barley—Dull.

Pork and lard—Inactive, the latter higher.

Rice and coffee—Quiet and steady at late decline.

Refined sugars—In good demand at full rates.

Raisins—Higher.

Hides—Dull and unchanged.

Turpentine—Dull and lower.

Petroleum—Unchanged.

Eastern Freight Situation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There is no material change to note in the freight market via Cape Horn. Ships in berth are doing fairly, being in receipt of increased shipments of agricultural goods, iron, etc. However, the movement is less than was anticipated. Up to this date rates remain as before and there is no indication of weakness, but on the contrary with a more active market and continued scarcity of vessels, there is likely to be an advance. Isthmus freights remain quiet and steamers are only used as auxiliary to railroads.

Freights at Boston are fairly active and Sintram has nearly half her cargo on board. Railroad freights at Boston are also fairly active with shipments the past week of 600 cases corn, and also boots and shoes, hardware, etc.

At Philadelphia the market is still rather quiet although there is more doing than for some time past.

King of the Blood.

Is not a "cure-all;" it is a blood purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

DR. P. M. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—132 and 134 Third St., opposite Masonic Hall. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A.M., 2 to 5, and 7 to 8 P.M. To all letters of professional business must be addressed DR. PAUL M. BRENAN & CO., Portland, Oregon.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them A FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

TAYLOR'S SPRING BEDS!

(REEDER'S PATENT.)

BEST IN USE.

NEVER LOSE THEIR SHAPE!

Read the following Testimonials:

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 19, 1881.

I have now over eighty (80) of Taylor's Spring Beds in use in the National Hotel, thirty (30) of which have been used daily for over three years, and will say that they are in as good condition now as when put in, having needed no repairs in that time. I consider them the cheapest, cleanest and best spring bed in the market, and I would not have any other kind in my hotel.

[Signed] J. B. KELLOGG, F. DAVIS.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 10, 1881.

I have in use seven of Taylor's Spring Beds, all of which give perfect satisfaction and are to-day in as good repair as when first used, three years ago.
